

Consistency of Message

A messaging consistency for leadership, values, standards, policies, procedures, and expectations must flow from basic sources through all materials used to onboard and train managers and employees.

